

LAND RISK & SECURITY PROTECTIVE & INTELLIGENCE SECURITY

ISS provide protective, intelligence and physical security services to enable organisations to reduce the exposure to risk and its impact on; continuity, resilience, research and development. In the provision of our services we work hand in hand with organisational representatives to ensure that you are prepared for the potential impact of risk with minimal disruption to your daily process.

Protective, intelligence and physical security have four primary purposes; mitigate risk, protect life and assets, protect organisational/individual intelligence and provide knowledge from compromise. Within the Corporate sector where businesses face risk constantly through the development of new conditions, procedures and technology. Security is a core consideration in ensuring the maintenance of commercial continuity

ISS Protective and intelligence security consultants and operatives have a substantial wealth of experience and knowledge in their expertise having learnt and applied their skills within military, government, law enforcement and intelligence organisations. Individual or team, male or female, our teams are adaptable and provide the appropriate profile to any given situation. Ensuring clients not only remain out of harm's way but are also comfortable within their surroundings, allowing continuity of their lifestyle or business activities.
